A Separation

The film, directed by Asghar Farhadi and starring Leila Hatami and Shahab Hosseini, is another example of the profound and thought-provoking cinema that began with A Separation. The film delves into the lives of two Iranian families, one with a housekeeper, and explores the complexities of marriage, family dynamics, and social norms in a society that emphasizes order and tradition.

Doha Film Institute (DFI) has allowed us to boost cultural heritage, and we at Katara are proud to be able to provide Doha audiences with the highly anticipated screenings. Katara is a cultural hotspot, and we at Katara believe in the importance of cultural exchange. Doha is fast becoming a cultural capital, and we appreciate its powerful and engaging screenings.

Katara and Doha Film Institute (DFI) have been working together to promote cultural events and art initiatives in Qatar and the wider Gulf region. With Qatar almost surrounded by water from three directions, Doha is in fact becoming a cultural hub, and here at Katara, we are proud to be able to open up the doors to cultural exchange and provide Doha audiences with a unique and engaging screening experience.

A Separation has received several awards, including the Golden Globe Award for Best Foreign Language Film, and the coveted Palme d'Or at the Cannes film festival. The film is a powerful exploration of familial relationships, social norms, and cultural expectations in contemporary Iranian society.

The DFI has been able to showcase the best films from around the region and beyond, and we look forward to continuing this trend with this year's screenings.
